Dear Chamber Members,

SPACES is conducting a national survey for the National Endowment for the Arts to locate and document unusual cultural sites.

"Chateau Laroche", the home of Harry Andrews, is currently listed as being in your city. Can you tell us, please:

- Does this site still exist?
- Is there an owner or organization responsible for the site?
- Is the site open to the public?
- Is there any printed information available?
- Who can we contact for more information?

Thank you for any information you can give us on this subject. It will become part of our national archives. Any assistance you can give us will be greatly appreciated.

Sincerely,

R. Sue Smith
Administrative Assistant

The Chateau Laroche is still there. It is currently closed on acct of petitions of neighbors who got the state involved in planning & zoning. Can see grounds but not inside. Call Chris Morris 513-561-9285
