Dear Sir:

We realize that you may be busy with other activities, but we would very much appreciate any help that you can manage to give us. If you have already responded to our last letter, please forgive this second intrusion. We are somewhat pressed for time.

SPACES is a national non-profit organization devoted to documenting and preserving large-scale art environments. We are now completing our next newsletter focusing on sites in Michigan, to appear summer 1988, and would greatly appreciate any help you can give us. We would really like to include a brief article on the Stations in our summer newsletter.

We would like to feature a 200 word article on the Stations of the Cross, but we unfortunately do not have any information on the history of your beautiful site, its builder, its current condition, or whether it is regularly open to the public (and if so, if there is an admission charge). We would be most grateful if you could answer these questions for us. We would also appreciate copies of any local newspaper articles on the Stations, if they are available.

*open to public
no admission charge*

If you or an assistant would like to write a brief article, please feel free. Otherwise, we will write an article based on the information you send us. Whatever information you provide us will be used for SPACES' use only. If you could respond to our requests as soon as possible, we would be very pleased.

Once the newsletter is published we will be happy to send you a copy.

Thank you very much in advance for your help. If there any questions you would like to ask us, please do not hesitate to ask. We look forward to hearing from you.

Sincerely,

Cynthia Pansing
