

Saving and Preserving Arts and Cultural Environments

1804 North Van Ness Los Angeles, California 90028

Telephone: 213/463-1629

August 7, 1987

Mr. Jon Pugh, AIA
Director
Design and Planning
Knotts Berry Farm
8039 Beach Boulevard, P.O. Box 5002,
Buena Park, California 90620-9985

Dear Mr. Pugh:

Thank you for your quick response to our letter dealing with John Ehn's sculptural environment.

In re reading the material I came across, perhaps, a confusing or misleading statement which I would like to clarify.

In the proposal we made reference to a dollar figure evaluation for individual pieces on the site. We included the figure to establish an unprejudiced aesthetic evaluation and not a hint towards a "suggested purchase price."

The fact is, the family would like to donate the sculpture to a established and stable commercial entity to insure that their fathers' efforts are seen by the largest amount of people in a safe and sympathetic environment. They hope that an alliance of this kind would save an Historic Landmark, be beneficial to all parties and allow the public to enjoy an unique art work.

If you have any suggestion of how to accomplish our goals or others to talk to, we would appreciate your help.

Thank you for your time.

Sincerely,

Seymour Rosen
Director