Dear Seymour Rosen and Elaine Wintman,

Enclosed is an article for SPACES newsletter. I attended this Howard Finster Workout in 1985, but the exhibition resulting from the Workout is still travelling and is available for further travel. The exhibition was sponsored by the Jargon Society, and Jonathan Williams and Tom Patterson from Jargon were present. Ray Kass of the Virginia Tech Art Department organized the event and also subsidized much of it, through Va Tech.

I was there, also. As a Finster fan and friend, as well as a Finster scribe (co-editor of Sermons In Paint, 1984, the catalogue accompanying the Finster Festival at U. of Richmond), I was asked to prepare his meals. Ann Oppenheimer and I shared these duties, steering Howard away from twinkies toward yoghurt and sunflower seeds. It was a wonderful experience, but just one example of the many workouts Howard conducts in Universities throughout the United States.

I wanted to show Howard in action. I hope you can use the piece. Enclosed is a S.A.S.E. for its return. Thank you for the opportunity to share my work with you.

Very sincerely,

Susan Hankla

Tom Patterson can supply photos. He had his camera.

I have many slides, also, of Howard at home.
