Mr. Seymour Rosen:

Thanks for the card. As yet, I have not come to terms with a publisher regarding the book that solves life's psychic riddle by putting occultism into true perspective, however, the facts can be stated quite briefly; working with a universal herbal mold method for focusing, stimulating and amplifying psychic and/or spiritual performances of all kinds can evolve to a landfill sized operation that grounds excessive atmospheric electricity and thus reduces storm production to pleasantly mild weather. A behind the scenes truth is that self-motivating electricities - which may also be regarded as spirits in essence or electromagnetic chemistries - are both psychic and weather moving forces.

The enclosed color photo illustrates how a mirroring plasma of self-motivating electricities can accumulate to produce an aura, mirage, or afterimage effect.

Best Wishes,

Morris M. Stanke, Ph.D.
