

You Will Want To See History, Bible And Fiction

POPE'S MUSEUM

A world of history, Bible, fiction, and fantasy personified, sculptured from cement and sand, greets the visitors at Pope's Museum on the oldest land lot in Grady County near Pelham, Georgia. Dwight D. Eisenhower, the former President of the United States, as a five star general, Douglas MacArthur, a five star general, and other celebrities grace the fence, and Martha Berry, Georgia's famous humanitarian and educator, looks from the arch above the gate.

Inside fictitious characters mingle with Biblical and historical. There are Uncus, the Indian from "The Last of the Mohicans" and Scarlett O'Hara of "Gone With the Wind" fame. The only statue in the world to Nancy Hart, the Georgia Revolutionary heroine, who shot and hung six British soldiers in her back yard, is beautiful to show her spiritual qualities rather than her real homely physical being.

Totem Pole

"QUEEN OF THE ROCKS"

At the base is a rock from every state in the Union.

Adam and Eve are presented in a lighted scene where nearly everything in this small Garden of Eden comes from the bottom of the sea.

Statues pay tribute to the school teacher, the mother-in-law, Death with a Smile, Red Cross Nurse, Soldier Boy, and Grandma. Cherubs fly around the Cupid's pond. The Cupid Room was the scene of many weddings.

The Museum has been restored as a memorial to its creator, the late Mrs. Pope Forester, who by daubing cement and sand from her training from her mother and studying under a sculptor from Colorado, fashioned over 200 figures, each with a significance. She painted the many artistic pictures, which are on display in the Museum. Antique relics, an old telephone, and a modern parachute add interest. Grill work and massive candelabra are found throughout the Museum.

This unique Museum was renovated by B. H. Pope of Bradenton, Florida, and is sponsored by the Business Woman's Civic Club of Pelham, Georgia.
