Dear SPACES Folks:

You probably have this one on your register, but in case you don't, here it is: There is a front yard bottle garden in New Mexico, on State Highway 14, in the little town of Golden. (The highway connects Albuquerque with Santa Fe via Madrid and Corrillos.) On the West side of the road is an elaborate front yard bottle display. I've not seen it - but heard of it last night at a lecture.

Hope this helps some. Keep up the good work.

Sincerely,

James S. Griffith, director
