Brother Augustine Campion
Director of Grotto Operations
St. Bernard Abbey
Cullman, AL 35055

Dear Brother Campion:

Through Linda Bayer of the Huntsville Planning Department, we have learned of the remarkable grotto created by the late Brother Zoettl at St. Bernard Abbey.

The grotto will be featured in our next newsletter (see enclosed for an explanation of our organization and our work). Also scheduled for our next newsletter is a bibliography listing all books, pamphlets, leaflets and other publications on the subject.

We are writing to you to request copies of the pamphlets you have developed on the grotto as we would like to include them in our bibliography. We also would be interested in learning whether or not the Abbey has produced post cards, buttons or other commemorative materials of the grotto. If so, we would be most appreciative if you could send us a sample of each. Please let us know if there is a charge for any of these materials; we would be happy to send you payment if you will let us know the amount. All materials will become part of our archives and the information will be available to scholars and the media.

Can individuals order commemorative and informational materials directly from you by mail? What are the prices? To whom should they address their inquiries? To you or to another member of the Abbey?

We are looking forward to visiting the grotto. We will be sure to send you a copy of our next newsletter as soon as it is published.

Thank you for your assistance. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Yours truly,

Seymour Rosen

Dear Director:

Through Linda Taylor of the University of Tennessee Department of Library Services, I have learned of the materials you have created by the late Walter Dill Scott at the University of Tennessee.

The project will be featured in our next newsletter (see enclosed for an explanation of our organization and our work). The enclosed for our next newsletter is a bibliography listing all books, pamphlets, articles and other publications on the subject.

We are writing to you to request copies of the pamphlets you have developed on this project as we would like to include them in our bibliography. It also would be interesting to learn whether or not the library has produced any other letters or other conservative materials of the project. If you would be most appreciative if you could send us a sample of each. Please let us know if there is a charge for any of these materials; we would be happy to send you payment if you will let us know the amount. All materials will become part of our archives and the information will be available to scholars and the media.

For individuals order conservative and international materials directly from you by mail. What are the prices? To whom should they address their inquiries? Is there another member of the library?

We are looking forward to visiting the project. It will be sure to send you a copy of our next newsletter as soon as it is published.

Thank you for your assistance. We look forward to hearing from you soon.

Yours truly,
